FEEDBACK

"I had started the skeleton of my website and got stuck because of my lack of experience at designing websites. David was very good at quickly understanding what had to be done. He followed my notes and directions and interjected his own stylistic ideas. He was prompt at responding and delivered a finalized website within the time frame. If you decide to hire David you are in good hands."

- Upwork Client

David showed that he really cared about the success of my project -- not just completing a to do list but asking questions, challenging, and guiding me in a way that made my landing page better! Super fast turnaround, good quality and great communication. Will definitely hire again!
